Romulus to get group home Ironstone street to be site

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

If all goes according to plan, Romulus will have another group home — their 13th — operating within the city by late summer, or at the latest, early fall. The home will be located on Ironstone between Riverside and Sweet Tree Lane, in the Applewood subdivision in the city's southeast corner.

When queried about the number of group homes already in Romulus, Mayor Beverly McNally stated that she wasn't "really sure, but I read in the Detroit News last week that there are 12." The article referred to, in the May 3 edition, featured a chart showing how some communities are "saturated" with group homes while others — usually affluent ones — have few, if any.

In this area, Romulus will have 13 when the Ironstone home is built, Wayne has 11, Huron Township 10 (with two more coming in the near future), Taylor 4, Van Buren 12, Sumpter Township 10 and Belleville, just two. Westland leads Wayne County with 21 group homes, while Inkster has 17.

A law passed in 1977 took away any authority the communities had regarding location and the homes.

Group homes give mentally impaired people a chance to adapt and fit back into the "real world," as opposed to an institunumber of homes in a city or township.

According to Ken Stockton of Wayne County Living Services, the reason for that is simple: "Prior to the law taking effect, whenever group homes were brought up for placement in a community, they said 'no' 98 percent of the time."

"They weren't really considering them," said Stockton, "just saying no arbitrarily."

A total of 45 court cases have been heard in Michigan regarding what some term the "invasion" of group homes into their neighborhoods, and 43 times the courts have ruled in favor of the tion that gives little, if any, individual care and often neglects the residents and in some cases even abuses them.

Stockton claims that many of the fears communities harbor towards group homes are due to misinformation.

"A lot of folks are afraid that their property value will go down, but there have been numerous reports done on that and they've never shown that to be the case."

"Also, many people link mentally impaired people — retarded people — with the mentally ill. While there have been a few widely publicized incidents of violence with mentally ill people, the retarded are simply more childlike. They're simply slow, not dangerous," said Stockton.

All seven of the homes Wayne

Community Living Services will be running in Romulus are for mentally impaired adults only. The Ironstone home will serve as a residence for six and will be custom built with features like wide hallways, grab bars and ramps to make it easier for those confined to wheelchairs.

The residents of the home will have 24-hour supervision, and during the day they will attend school or workshops. According to Carol Park, Community Relations Coordinator for WCLS, evenings and weekends will be spent in supervised recreational and training programs.

The project is already in its preliminary stages. The home is expected to be completed and have residents in it by late August or early September, according to Stockton.

An information-sharing meeting is scheduled to take place at city hall at 7 p.m. May 29.

"People tend to be scared of what they don't understand," said Stockton, "and going in, they usually don't understand much about the retarded, thanks in part to how they're portrayed on television. But we've found that once the home is working, the neighbors come around and see what it's really like and end up offering support to those less fortunate than themselves."

Winners all the way!

Amber and Ryan Darnell, 7 and 8 years old respectively, came away from the Romulus Festival carnival one stuffed dog richer than they entered. Ryan — who has his arm draped protectively around his younger sister — and Amber are students at St. Aloysius Elementary School in Romulus.

MICHIGAN ZONING LAWS

Zoning and foster care licensing law amendments enacted by the state legislature in 1976 and 1977 are important elements in Michigan's community placement program. In approving these statutory changes, the legislature prohibited discrimination against small group homes for mentally disabled persons. They were also careful to protect the rights of local communities.

The major provisions of the amendments are summarized below.

- Cities, villages, townships or counties may not exclude from residential zoning districts licensed homes which provide residential services for six or fewer persons.
- Homes which qualify under the act must provide 24-hour-per-day supervision.
- No licenses may be granted to new residential facilities, if another facility is located within a 1,500-foot radius unless permitted by local zoning ordinances.
- Local governing bodies may file complaints to have a home's license suspended, denied or revoked.
- The state licensing agency (Department of Social Services) is mandated to resolve complaints within 45 days. Failure to resolve complaints within the 45 day period blocks issuance of continuation of a license.
- Transitional homes serving persons released by correctional facilities are not covered under the amendments.

The passage of these amendments helped produce new living opportunities for Michigan's handicapped citizens. For example:

- The range of community residential programs is greater than in the early 1970s. Persons with mental disabilities do not have to stay in large, isolated institutions for extended periods of time if they can benefit from services in a smaller home-like atmosphere.
- Monitoring and supervision of group homes has improved, because licensing requirements are more stringent.
- Group homes cannot be over-concentrated in one area.

The second annual Romulus 10K marathon run drew nearly 200 participants Saturday morning despite the rain that fell through the night. The overall winner was Larry Olszewski of Detroit with a time of 33 minutes, 5 seconds. The top woman finisher was Robin Sarris of Ann Arbor, with a time of 38 minutes, 56 seconds, a full 10 minutes faster than last year's top female. Olszewski and Sarris are pictured.

On the move in Romulus!

Mayor Beverly McNally handed out proclamations designating this week as National Transportation Week in Romulus. Rogalle to run for 34th District Felix F. Rogalle has announced his candidacy for the position of Judge in the 34th Judicial District. His opponent will be incumbent Judge James B. Stone.

Rogalle is a life-long resident of the community, having graduated from Belleville High School in 1951, Michigan State University in 1955 and received his doctorate in law from the Detroit College of Law in 1963.

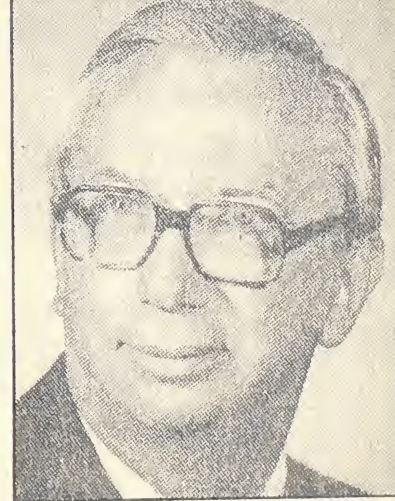

He first set up his law office in Romulus 19 years ago and has been there ever since. He also is active in community affairs, as a member of the Charter Commission for the City of Romulus, the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, the Huron Chamber of Commerce and the Romulus Central Business District Association.

Rogalle currently resides in Huron Township with his wife, Rosemary, and his three daughters, Anne, Kara and Diane. He has never ran for the position before and says he is "vitaly concerned about the welfare of this area and is indebted to many of the citizens for their support in the past."

The 34th District includes Romulus, Huron Township, Belleville, Sumpter and Van Buren.

Other candidates have until 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 5, to file for the Aug. 7 primary election. The election proper will be Nov. 6.

On the mend

Medically retired men under the age of 55 are invited to attend the first meeting of a free self-help group from 10 a.m. to noon tomorrow (May 24) in room 2 of the PCHA Administration Building, Annapolis and Venoy Roads in Westland.

The group is a result of an effort by Dave Brunette, a medically retired heart attack victim, PCHA and Westland representatives.

"Trying to adjust to life at home is a unique situation that can really get your down," Brunette said. "Sometimes you just need someplace to go and someone to talk to. That's how the idea for this group began."

"We really want people to stop by, regardless of what area they're from or the nature of their health problem," he said.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served during the meeting.

For more information, call Dave Brunette at 595-1940 or Mary Ann Homann at 467-4637.

Schools to reinstate 6th hour classes if millage passes

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

On June 11, voters in Romulus will be asked to increase their school millage by a total of 7.5 mills. An operating millage of 6 mills and a maintenance millage of 1.5 will be on the ballot, and Jerry DeHarnais, who is working with the board of education on the issue is convinced it will pass.

"Our slogan, 'Show You Care, Do Your Share' is catching on very well," said DeHarnais, "and the response from the residents has really been overwhelming.

"We're on an upswing in Romulus, and we need to keep and even raise the standards of our schools along with it. Mainly, the millage is to improve our school system just to make it competitive so our students will be better equipped for the job market once they graduate," DeHarnais said.

One-half of the 6 mills (1 mill-$302,000) for operation would go to restore 6th hour classes at Romulus High School, while the remaining would go towards general operations.

The 1.5 allotted for maintenance would be used to repair massive holes in the roof of the high school, repair roof leaks at at least three more of the city's schools, instructional materials and transportation.

"If those leaks aren't fixed and pretty fast," says DeHarnais, "it'll end up costing hundreds of $1,000s. And if we can't prepare our kids to be better suited for the competitive job market, well, there's no dollar figure you can put on that."

According to DeHarnais, massive campaigns are underway to bring voters out on election day, including phone drives, literature and a drive service for those needing a ride to the polls.

"Right now, there are no art classes, music classes or physical education classes in the elementary schools. That needs to be rectified," says DeHarnais.

"Mayor Beverly McAnally came out with a warm endorsement of our millage increase, and that's unusual — for an elected official to do that.

"This community has really done without a lot. They've tightened their belts quite a bit, but now it's time to reinforce what the community has accomplished. So far, education has been good in Romulus. We want it to stay good," DeHarnais said.

New Boston woman beaten

A 52-year-old New Boston woman was brutally beaten to death last Thursday in Berkley, where she reportedly had gone to visit a cancer patient.

The body of Beverly Gasperin Conklin was identified at the morgue by her 26-year-old son, Jeffrey. "She was so badly beaten I almost didn't know her," said Conklin.

The alleged perpetrator's daughter discovered the body and called the police. It is believed that the death had not taken place long before police arrived on the scene at approximately 11 a.m.

Police arrested Frederick William Studinger when he arrived home at 1 a.m. Friday morning. He is charged with murder. His preliminary examination in 45th District Court, which was scheduled for Tuesday, has been adjourned until June 5.

"He (Studinger) called my mother and told her that his father, who is suffering from cancer, needed to see her. They'd been friends for awhile and if she thought he was in trouble, she'd go," said Conklin.

"My mother used to go out with this guy, up until eight months ago. Then they broke up and he still made strange phone calls and threats every now and then, but she didn't want anything to do with him. But she stayed friends with his father.

"There was nothing going on between them — I know that for a fact. She would never have gone there had she not been convinced it was to help his father," Conklin said. "But he managed to lure her out there."

Conklin worked part-time helping to care for an elderly man in Southfield.

Beverly Conklin is survived by her sons, Jeffrey Allen and William Richard, and her grandson Richard.

Commission to receive payment?

Members of the Romulus Cable Television Commission have been questioning Mayor Beverly McAnally and the city council as to why they have not received payment as indicated they would.

They were to be paid out of revenues the city would get from Barden Cablevision, but since there is as yet no cable, there are no revenues.

Mayor Pro-Tem Mary Ann Banks stated that did not "even know of a reason they would be meeting." McAnally replied that they "meet once a month, but that only one or two persons attend."

(ROMSAC) is an organization working to fight and prevent drug and alcohol abuse in the community. They believe that parent groups are a significant weapon in the anti-chemical effort.

Regular meetings are held on the third Thursday of each month from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Board of Education office. Anyone interested in learning more about the group should call the Romulus Help Center at 941-7970.

Lesson in government

The Westland City Council vs. Mayor Charles Pickering, individually and as mayor of the City of Westland, Case No. 84.

Adversaries in the community's political arena, the ongoing confrontation between the mayor and council again has spilled over into Wayne County Circuit Court. The council has determined that the mayor has not complied with its budget resolutions, the requirements of the City Charter, his oath of office and state statutes, so it is seeking judicial relief from conduct that has caused "a crisis in government . . . to the point of anarchy."

The continuous bickering between the mayor and council began in January 1982 and has continued almost non-stop since that time. However, this lawsuit is a bird of a different feather in that it accuses the mayor of misconduct in office and seeks a declaratory judgement stating just that. At first glance it appears to be the initial step in a move to oust the mayor from office.

Disputes between political foes are expected; they occur at all levels of government. However, such a prolonged battle has served no purpose other than to give the city a black eye that may never heal.

Both sides believe that what they do, and have done, is right.

Both sides charge the opposition with a lack of communication and political motives.

Lack of communication and political motivation appear to be accurate charges. But as to the correctness of their actions, there's a shadow of doubt, considering the injured who litter their respective paths of righteousness.

Government, so we all have been taught in civics class, is to be "of the people, for the people and by the people." That is not the case in Westland, where government has become more "of my supporters, for my supporters and by my supporters." It has become an embarrassment to Westland residents, not to mention a financial burden.

A city so financially strapped that it must ask its employees to take pay freezes and accept minimal pay increases down the road, can ill-afford costly legal battles as this one will be.

And what will come of it? Whichever side wins will make political hay of the victory — that goes without saying. But should it be considered a victory? We believe not. It will only serve to divide the community even more, something Westland does not need at this time.

Such bitterly entrenched feelings as apparently exist between the mayor and council cannot be healed as long as each side remains obstinate and uncooperative. Pointing out that cooperation on both sides is needed rates as a wornout understatement; cooperation exists only if both sides are willing.

Neither side need give into the will of the other, but a little bending would accomplish more than this lawsuit. Maybe it is time the council and mayor sat down together and read the Constitution of the United States to understand the meaning of government. Westland isn't their private domain to manipulate as they see fit. Their continued and repeated assaults on each other are a detriment to the city's already battered image.

The casualty figures from this battle are high enough. It is time that the mayor and the council get their act together, if not for a bit of political peace, then for the betterment of the community. After all, isn't that what government is all about?

Least we forget

Most of us don't remember the years the battles were fought or won or lost. How many were slain and where they are buried . . . unless they were our loved ones.

And, even then some of us don't know. But, Memorial Day, is a day that we will recall with speeches, parades and music the sacrifices that more than a million and a quarter servicemen and women have made so that this nation can remain free.

On Monday, some of us will place flowers on the graves of those who gave their last full measure of devotion . . . for their country. Others will hurry to curbside to get a good viewing place to watch as the American Legion, the veterans of past and present wars march by.

Americans will remember.

And some have forgotten that this nation is strong because of men and women who are willing to protect the ideals upon which this country was founded, that there are rights no man or woman should have to surrender to government and among those are the "Freedom of Speech" and the right to pursue happiness the way we wish.

Federal observance of Memorial Day this year falls on May 28. Many municipalities and veterans' organizations, however, prefer to observe Memorial Day on the traditional May 30 date.

No matter what day you choose to commemorate it — remember our war dead on Memorial Day.

Yes, we have no bananas

I don't know if the title of this column aptly describes the content, but it speaks to me. We often, it seems, find ourselves attempting to go in two directions at the same time, in effect, saying yes and no simultaneously.

Associated Newspapers today finds itself in such a quandry. At the risk of inflicting massive boredom, I am going to attempt during the next few weeks to accomplish the following: 1) Tell you of our current dilemma 2) inform you as to what is or isn't happening to YOUR local newspaper 3) drop back and give you some history for perspective, and 4) bring you the alternatives and solicit your feedback.

To begin, let me attempt to reassure the doubters, those confused by recent changes we have made, and those who are angry about those changes, that we DO care. We are, in fact, attempting to respond to your concerns, and will continue to attempt to address those concerns, whether logical or emotional.

Ready? Okay, here's newspaper business lesson number one.

Advertising is what pays the bills. Advertising is the commodity that determines whether there will be a newspaper here or not in the future. Advertising dollars spent with us are a vote for what we do. Advertising with a competitor, be it a daily paper, direct mail or electronic media, can be a vote against local news.

Competitors who take advertising dollars out of the local market area hurt this newspaper, or any newspaper.

Val pak, Advo mailers, direct mail, shoppers, they all take dollars away, while giving nothing back to the community. With few, if any exceptions, they have no overhead, pay no property taxes and usually have no offices, offer no benefits to their employees, and most importantly to me, give back no editorial product to the communities that support them.

No advertising, no news. No news, say some, no advertising.

Some would like to challenge the authority of a free press which scrutinizes, informs, expresses opinions contrary to those in power and works to advise citizens of their rights, the wrongs in life, and facets of a situation so that they might make their own decision at the polling place or elsewhere. That's what we attempt to do. That's our job.

Many of the businesses who take and take and give little or nothing back to the community are quick to want consideration from others. They do it to us and they do it to others. With us, they want their news in the paper so everyone will know . . . but they "can't afford" an ad or tell us "no one reads the paper". Now tell me, why is it so important to have your news article or photo in a paper that "no one reads"? And, if they can't afford to advertise with us, to help bring a local news product to people who want it and, need it, how can they justify advertising with competitors who take dollars out of the community and provide nothing in return?

Many don't do their own shopping in town. They don't attempt to keep their own towns growing and thriving. Many don't live in the community that supports them, they don't attend Chamber of Commerce meetings and certainly aren't active in service clubs.

They do, however, have endless answers when asked about such matters. "I used to," "We did once," or "My dad used to. . . ." I ask, what have you done lately for this community and usually the answer, when the excuses are stripped away, is, nothing.

A newspaper is a mirror image of a community. This newspaper has problems. . . and so do the communities we serve. We're working as hard as we know how to solve our problems, and to serve our readers.

People ask what's wrong with this newspaper. We ask what's wrong with our communities.

See you next week.

TO THE EDITOR:

I don't believe that the majority of Wayne homeowners favor a new swimming pool as the headlines of the Wayne Eagle would have us believe. I haven't talked to a single person yet favoring it but of course I'm not too well acquainted with "long time residents with higher income" or "younger pool users who rent with older children at home and who also have higher income". I can't help but feel that this survey was very cleverly conducted with the sole purpose of setting up a wedge to further the ambitions and goals of the Wayne Citizens Pool Committee.

Now don't think I'm just casting sour apples; I live in the area of the Community Center and an updated attractive swimming pool should certainly enhance the value of my home. However, I have lived in Wayne since 1948 in the same general vicinity and have seen many curious and not always beneficial things happen to my City. I will gladly support a new Swimming Pool and help with my small voice in "selling it," if certain conditions are considered and if practical, put in effect:

1) The annual tax increase seems fair enough on the surface unless there are excessive maintenance costs being underplayed or buried.

2) However, non-property owners should have to pay a fair higher amount. For example $50 a year paid as a 10-year lump sum payment of $500, since we can't be sure that they will be here two years from now to support the pool they voted for. (If their rental unit had a pool, compare the monthly rental rate.)

3) An impartial homeowner's representative should be selected to set in on all future pool study sessions. All the committed groups have the lobbyists so to speak, but we small homeowners need to be up to date on studies also.

Our City should review the past 35 years and consider if all moves made were for the good of the general citizenry or for the moneyed and otherwise partial groups. I would like to truly say, "I'm proud to live in Wayne," but it is a little difficult sometimes as I see streets and vacant property in total state of decay, yet hear our City Fathers claim that we are really progressing.

What of the empty places in the Wayne Mall, and the Wayne Commons in particular? What of the influx of non-retail type facilities in our Downtown area and no place to shop? I will admit however that they have plenty of fast food outlets nearby to rush out at lunch time and a little more class at the downtown four corners for the selective dinners to choose from.

I can remember having trouble finding a parking place in downtown Wayne when I wanted to shop but the past few years the biggest problem is to avoid being run over by traffic rushing hither and yon.

I'd like to support a modest tax increase to improve our DPW equipment and provide some needed street repair, but it would be a bad time to bring this up when we are contemplating the future of the much more urgently needed Swimming Pool.

I wonder how many other Wayne homeowners feel as I do. If you do speak up, now is the time to be heard. I for one will oppose the pool all the way until I'm convinced that the majority of Wayne homeowners favor a new Swimming Pool, if proper details and true costs, etc. are laid on the line.

Changing the rules

To the Editor:

I am the owner of a small fire-works stand on Eureka near Inkster Road and I have read the new version of the Romulus fire-works ordinance. It goes without saying that I am opposed to any language prohibiting retail sales from temporary structures.

Passage of this ordinance at this late date was very untimely.

school eight years and was in terrible shape. It (Army) scared me, but I had nothing to lose."

The oldest female in camp had an inauspicious debut, failing to complete one situp and one lap around the quarter-mile track. Her PT (physical training) could only improve.

She failed to make the grade after one stint of basic training but on her second attempt Sesock passed the PT exam, completing 26 situps in less than two minutes, 26 pushups in less than two minutes and two miles on the track in less than 20 minutes. A strenuous schedule of exercising and typical Army life had done wonders for her 5-foot-7 frame.

More amazing is the change in personality.

"My classmates would remember me as being a very shy person," said Sesock, a 1972 graduate of Cherry Hill High. "Now you can't shut me up. Anyone looking for some discipline and organization in their lives should try the Army for 3 years."

Relaxing in the living room of her parents' (Willard and Jane Church) home in Inkster, Sesock talks easily about the future... the fight for custody of her children, her upcoming marriage to Staff Sgt. William Christoforo and her work as the only ranking E-5 Military Policewoman in her company.

"I'm more in control of my life, more outward," she explained. "The Army has a way of making people be like that. At times it's tough being the only female. The men want to protect you and it's a great challenge to show that I can protect myself."

Of course, such self-confidence may surprise those who remember Sesock as the woman who used diet pills to qualify for admission into the service. Or the Sesock who on more than one occasion called her parents and talked about quitting.

This Tuesday afternoon she wears a shirt with the inscription Karlsruhe, Germany, a souvenir from the area she patrolled for more than a year. It was in this town near the French border that the shy woman from Inkster continued her education.

Admired a terrorist bombing incident and the rigors of maintaining high performance standards, Sesock learned about her capabilities.

"I hope to go back to Germany," said Sesock, who has reenlisted for three years. "The people there were very friendly, very helpful."

Following her marriage June 2 at Christ Methodist Church, the sergeant will return to Fort Sheridan to continue studying for an associate's degree in law enforcement.

As to a career in the Army, she's not ready for that commitment just yet.

"I definitely plan on staying in law enforcement," Sesock declared, "but I'm undecided on my career (goals)."

But for a woman who has conquered PT, shyness and marital problems, the future challenges are no longer intimidating.

"Mom" has arrived.

Running a business is not a small task, plans have to be made well in advance, supplies purchased, rental agreements signed, and commitments made many months beforehand.

It is with this in mind that I asked our Mayor in January of this year that if the ordinance had to be changed again, could it be done early so that there would be time to adjust my business accordingly. Since action was not forthcoming until less than two weeks prior to the date that I am allowed to start business under the old ordinance, I also asked the council on the night of May 14, 1984, "If you feel you must approve this proposed ordinance, that you make the effective date of the section prohibiting sales from temporary structures after July 6, 1984."

This new ordinance does not prohibit the sale of fireworks, but deals with only how fireworks are sold, and in effect changes the rules of the game minutes before kickoff.

Keep hospital open

To the Editor:

In response to Mr. Lucas wanting to close Wayne County General Hospital, if it is not sold by May 31, 1984.

While checking with some of the employees and people associated with Mr. Lucas and the hospital, I found some very interesting facts.

When the hospital was built it was not expected to show a profit. The purpose of having a county hospital was to help the poor and those who could not afford to get medical treatment anywhere else. There is no way to count the number of lives the hospital and staff have saved. They have taken my child when she had chicken pox when no other hospital would accept her, because they did not want to expose the other patients.

Since Mr. Lucas started talking about selling the hospital (2 years ago) the staff has been cut to little more than nothing. But one of the administrators just received a $9,000 raise. The nursing staff has been without a contract for 3 years, while some of the staff with 16 years with the hospital are making a mere $18,000 a year. There are many of the employees who have tried to talk to the press to give them some insight as to what is going on, but no one seems to be interested in their side. I WONDER WHY?

In the last five years WCGH has changed its image 100 percent. People are no longer afraid to go there as they have some of the best doctors in the state on staff there. But now they wonder if it will be there for them to return to. That is costing the hospital and county a great deal of money as most of these people have insurance, and are looking for another hospital that will be around when they need them.

Mr. Lucas just gave Receiving Hospital $14 million. Did he charge that to WCGH as part of the deficit? Just because the hospital is in the red does not mean the county should no longer have the responsibility to care for the citizens of our communities.

I have a multi-handicapped child and if she needed emergency care, a matter of minutes could mean life or death to her. Think about that Mr. Lucas? There are a lot of people in this area who depend on WCGH staying open. Just as you may need our vote come election time.

Seiler's courtroom

To the Editor:

Just recently I was called for jury duty in Wayne. Judge Seiler's courtroom. I was amazed, and disgusted, at the smallness of his courtroom. There was no jury room, we had to stand in the hall. The courtroom was so stuffy. I had an asthma attack.

For his years of service, I really think the judge deserves better, and the jury's deserve a better place to serve.

The politicians promised a new one, but political promises are gone like the wind. I am complaining! We deserve a better court house, for a district court!

Top notch Seniors honored for leadership, service

tive in the Boy Scouts, serving as a Scout leader from 1950 to 1960.
In 1972 he served on a Study Committee for the Westland Roads, and in 1976, through the city's Department on Aging and in cooperation with the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, was instrumental in organizing a workshop at the Cooper School annex. The workshop has since been moved to the former Nankin Mills Junior High School.
He was appointed to the city's Commission on Aging in 1980 by then mayor Thomas Taylor and served on that board until 1983. While a member of the commission, he was appointed by that body to the Community Development Citizens Advisory Committee, serving on it from 1982 to 1983.

A 12-year member of the Disabled American Veterans, Hickey now serves on a special committee for the advisory council and is a volunteer worker for the community's Operation Breadbasket Program.

For the past seven years he has served on the special events committee for the Department on Aging, and each month works to set up and clean up for the 500 to 600 seniors who participate in programs at the center.
Hickey has been a volunteer driver for the Department on Aging and since 1980 has been a backup emergency driver, ferrying seniors to the hospital and doctor appointments, when because of boundary regulations, the SEMTA dial-a-ride cannot accommodate the seniors' needs.
He also is a volunteer driver for the Out-Wayne County Meals on Wheels program. He began delivering meals to homebound seniors daily in 1978 and is still active in the program weekly or whenever called upon.
An advocate for the expansion and renovation of the Friendship Center, Hickey was described as "continually working to better the lives of the elderly" in his nominating petition.
"Mr. Hickey is a very deserving man, always ready and willing to help out whenever and wherever needed he is. He never looks for thanks," his fellow seniors wrote. "Many people have heard him say, 'If I can help those people less fortunate than myself, then that is why I'm here, and that's what it's all about.'"

Hickey in accepting the honor earlier this month, credited his wife with his ability to help other seniors.
"My wife did all the cleaning and cooking while I was out on these errands," he noted.
Venter was nominated for Senior Citizen of the Year for Service by Mary Hatch, president of the Sixty Plus Club, Evelyn McGuire - Overend, chairman of the Nursing Home Project; and a good friend, Nan Finley.
Born in Scotland in 1905, he emigrated to the United States in 1928, settling in the Detroit area. Retired after almost 30 years of employment with the Ford Motor Company, Venters and his wife of 49 years, Margaret, moved to their present Westland home in 1970.
Venter has been playing the piano since 1911 and is an accomplished trombonist. For many years he was a member of various dance bands, and it is his penchant with music that earned the senior honor.

Cooperating with Mrs. McGuire-Overend, he organized a group of 15 club members and started visiting nursing homes in Westland to perform for their residents and conduct sing-alongs. Venter and his group "have given many hours of themselves to bring entertainment and fellowship to shut-ins in Westland," his supporters noted.
Since 1980 he has provided the entertainment for special events and has conducted sing-alongs for seniors at the Friendship Center and at the Whittier Senior-Community Center.
Venter's musical talent isn't limited to entertaining seniors, though. Since 1949 he has been, and still is, an organist with the Masonic Lodge at the Masonic Temple in Detroit. He is a member of the Order of Scottish Clans.

In his occasional leisure time, Venter enjoys a good game of lawn bowling, a sport he partakes of at the city's lawn bowling greens in Central City Park.
However, his self-fulfillment comes most from helping others.
"He has many times in the last 14 years provided transportation to and from doctor's offices, hospitals and emergency rides for seniors in the community," his nominating petition noted. "He gives continuous support and truly meets the needs of the less fortunate by bringing music into their lives and miles of smiles to their faces."
Venter in accepting the honor extended a thank you "to everybody who participated in giving me this honor" and promised "to do this as long as I can."

Hall of famers

Jack Hickey (left) and Peter Venter truly have something to smile about after being selected as the city of Westland's Senior Citizen of the Year for Leadership and Service respectively. The twosome were honored for the untiring dedication to their fellow seniors. They will be installed in the city's Department of Aging Hall of Fame, where ANP Chief Photographer Lothar E. Konietzko found them this week.

IS YOUR APARTMENT FALLING APART?

Dear Letter Writer:

I am so frustrated. I have made all kinds of phone calls, and I can't get the management company for my apartment complex to call me back. My apartment is a mess and needs a lot of repair work. I don't know what to do. I feel like not paying my rent or something else equally as drastic. I thought maybe a letter would help since they won't return my calls.

Sincerely, SC

Dear Management Company:

I would like to take this opportunity to direct your attention to the present uninhabitable conditions which have existed in and around my apartment unit for some time now:

1. It has been seven years since my unit was painted. There are walls in my apartment that are totally void of paint and are, in fact, down to the drywall.

2. It has been seven years since my drapes have been cleaned or replaced. They are rotting off the windows and are extremely unsightly.

3. It has been seven years since my carpet has been cleaned or replaced and it is grossly soiled and tattered.

4. For six years, I have had no grass on the lawn adjacent to my unit. The grass was killed by rock salt and has never been restored or replaced.

5. There are two light fixtures broken in my basement.

6. There are two toilets in my unit and both have been broken for some time.

7. The parking lot contiguous to my unit is in exceedingly poor condition with pot holes as deep as 8 inches. In addition, in the area surrounding the dumpster that services my unit, there is a great deal of rubble, i.e. broken glass and other "garbage material." Needless to say, these conditions are harmful to both the suspension as well as the tires on my personal automobile, not to mention the likelihood of youngsters receiving injuries from falls or broken glass.

Please respond promptly with regard to your intentions and the time frame you propose for rectifying these excessively annoying and dangerous conditions.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely, SC

RESOLUTION: Two days after SC mailed this letter, she received a call from the management company. With the exception of the grass, they immediately made all the repairs she requested.

The grass replacement was scheduled and accomplished in the spring. Tenants have rights and this tenant exercised them. Sometimes we just have to get people's attention and it takes hitting them on the head with a two by four.

Belleville BPW installs new officers

The women of Faith United Methodist Church provided the dinner for members of the Belleville Professional Business and Women's Club, who gathered May 7 for the installation of officers for the 1984-85 club year.

Past club president Vira Petraska McGrane conducted the candlelight installation ceremony, which made official the selection of Sophie Zoller as president, Connie Stoelton as president-elect, Ila Hayes as vice-president, Judy Taylor as recording secretary, Sandy Butler as corresponding secretary and Sharon Collins as treasurer.

The BPW insignia president's pin was passed by outgoing Faye Sotomayor to incoming president Sophie Zoller. Also exchanged between presidents was the gavel of the club.

Two charter members of the BPW Club, Irene Whalen and Marie Roberts, were presented with bud vases, filled with pink roses and ribbons, recognizing the twosome for 37 years of membership. Also honored were Helen White and Vira Petraska McGrane, who joined the BPW during its first year of operation.

Club members also elected delegates to the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club 66th annual state convention, to be held in Flint. Representing the Belleville club will be Sophie Zoller, Ila Hayes, Connie Stoelton, Midge Artley and Ruth Baehr. Faye Sotomayor as outgoing president and Bonnie Pavlat as District Director will be voting delegates at the convention.

Attending the national convention, which will be held in Nashville, Tenn., July 22-26, will be Sophie Zoller. The alternate delegate will be Mable Hall.

Also on the agenda for the meeting was the making of a $25 contribution to the newly formed "Friends of the Fred C. Fischer Library" in Belleville.

Upcoming activities for the club will be the awarding of a $500 scholarship to a senior girl at Belleville School. The recipient will be announced at the June club meeting.

Club members also will be manning a booth during the upcoming Strawberry Festival. The booth will be located on the grounds of St. Anthony's Church and will feature strawberry jewelry, arts and crafts.

Decorations for the dinner meeting were coordinated by Pam Zoller, student member, who prepared the colorful candles in black holders, trimmed with ribbons for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Thornburg and small son, Benjamin of Kalamazoo, and Susan Featheringill, Amy and Sara of Sully Drive, were Saturday dinner guests of the Richard Careys of Edgedale Drive.

Wednesday evening, May 16, Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES, were hosts from Members of Blue Bell Chapter from Chatham, Ontario. 38 Chatham members were present for a dinner and a special program put on by Past Grand Matron Helen Melbourne from Grand Ledge.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
By John Brimble

Get ready for squid. Calamari, long popular in Mediterranean cuisine, is being featured in more restaurants, cookbooks, and magazine articles. Inexpensive and high in protein, the tasty seafood may be in your kitchen next.

Pretty winter salad: thin slices of fennel and radish, tossed together with vinaigrette.

To reduce the odor of cabbage or brussels sprouts, add a stalk of celery, freshly cut up, to the water.

Anything can be a dip, whirled in the processor. Cook frozen broccoli-in-cheese-sauce and blend in processor with sour cream, a spoonful of lemon juice, and a bit of minced dried onion. Serve cold (add milk if too thick) with fresh-vegetable dippers.

You can substitute sherry for 1/4 cup of the milk called for in pudding mix. Or use some white wine instead of water in molded fruit salad.

Three Romulus High students will attend Girls' State

Three Romulus Senior High School students have been selected to attend the 44th Annual American Legion Auxiliary Girls' State Program. The program is to be held on the campus of Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant from June 9 - 17.

Attending will be 504 girls, representing the best of Michigan youth.

The three recipients this year each have received scholarships valued at $150. The winners are Sandra Barr, daughter of Leonard and Kathleen Barr, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Romulus; Sue Omarzu, daughter of Charles and Joan Omarzu, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Romulus; and Michelle Fock, daughter of Sandor and Thelma Fock, sponsored by the Romulus Progressive Club.

All are completing the 11th grade at Romulus Senior High School, and they will be returning as seniors to share their many experiences with their classmates next year.

The 1984 Girls State Program is designed as a practical experience in the problems of self-government as operated within the state of Michigan. The purpose of the program is to emphasize the importance of government in modern life, to stimulate a deep and lasting interest in government and to enlarge the students understanding of the governmental process.

The basic method of Girls State, by which these goals may be achieved, is that of actual participation in the political and governmental process. Care has been taken to design the Girls State Program so that every student may participate in the electoral process, have an opportunity to hold public office and be encouraged to share in the formulation of public policy.

Since no one person can serve in all offices of government, it is expected that a great deal will be learned by observation of the activities of others.

To be eligible a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, able to attend the full nine-day session, be completing her junior year of high school and be a Michigan resident attending a Michigan high school.

Selection is based on each girl's interest, character and potential abilities. Also considered are teacher recommendations and academic record.

Upon their arrival at Girls State, each girl is assigned to a mythical political party and to a county and city. There are seven counties, each composed of three cities.

The citizens nominate and elect various city, county and state officials. They are instructed in the duties of the various public offices, they learn the functioning of each office, its powers and limitations, including the State Supreme Court, the Legislature and other divisions of government.

Two girls will be selected from Michigan's Girls State to attend Girls Nation, held in Washington, D.C.

Girls Nation, a citizenship program in the processes of federal government, to which Girls State send two "Senators" each, is an annual climax to the Girls State program and has been held in the nation's capitol for one week each summer since 1947.

John Domas, Rotary Representative and Romulus High School counselor, has issued a thank you to the following people for their help, support and assistance in making it possible to send the students to Girls State: E. L. Sheffield, Romulus High School principal; Mae Jackson, William Knight and Al Wilerson, romulus High School counselors; David Person (Kiwanis), Gerald Nault (Progressive), Fred Coleman, Dennis Stoh, Mike Zher, Ann Scott, Linda Wyatt, all Romulus High School teachers; and Bonnie Bossidis, Guidance Office secretary.

Keeping up with the Joneses

TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Keeping up with the Joneses ... Easier written, than done. Especially when it comes to Inkster's Earl Jones and his 15-year-old brother, Lewis, who happens to be a sophomore at Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Earl fascinated the prep track scene two years ago as he crashed through the record barriers in the distance events. He eventually wound up at Eastern Michigan University where he has qualified to run in the Olympic trials.

But this isn't Earl's story, although he surely deserves the ink. It's Lewis'.

"He's just a fantastic kid," said Leit Jones (no relation), assistant track & field coach at Robichaud. "At 15, he's already on the verge of breaking the mile and 2-mile records and he should be even better than his older brother before he finishes his high school career."

Lewis "nosed out" Cherry Hill's senior Larry Dixon, in the 1,600-meters (about 20 yards shorter than a mile) to win the gold medal at the regional championship staged on Saturday in Linden. The 15-year-old sophomore helped the Bulldogs win the regional team championship.

Lewis covered the distance in 4:29.5 and many a runner would envy that performance. He also ran a leg on the winning 1,600 meter relay and anchored the gold-medal winning 3,200 relay team.

Not bad for a 15-year-old.

And, although he may not have the maturity to compete against the experience that a Flint Beecher could throw at him on June 2 at the Caro state finals, just think what Lewis will do at state a year, or two or three from now.

Cherry Hill Coach Dick Gordon wants to see the top track and field listing reinstituted on these pages.

Even though the season is winding down and in the stretch run? "Yes. That's all our kids talk about," Gordon says. "They've been asking me, 'Is Meridian getting too old that he can't handle it?' Hey, I'll even compile it if the newspaper will publish the listing."

Be our guest, Richard.

Coaches are urged to contact the Cherry Hill coach at 477-3468 Monday or Thursday between 7 and 9 p.m.

The Associated Newspapers welcomes track coaches from Belleville, Romulus, New Boston Huron, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Livonia Churchill, Franklin, Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Cherry Hill, Inkster, and Dearborn Heights to submit their team's top times and performances to Coach Gordon.

We'll publish the listing. I promise.

Robichaud leads track finalists

Bulldogs win regional 'B' championship

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Dominating the relays and chalking up individual victories in the long jump and mile, Robichaud captured the Class B Track and Field Regional Championship held in Linden on Saturday.

The regional victory by Coach Jeff Flounory's Bulldogs forces a showdown between the local thinclads and the defending Class B state champs, Flint Beecher, who they will meet on June 2 in Caro.

"Beecher is always a threat in track and field," said Leit Jones, assistant Robichaud track coach, "and they are definitely the team to beat. We have some excellent athletes who will have to be at their best in order for us to win the state title."

Jones also sees River Rouge, a member of the Suburban Athletic Conference, and Cherry Hill, the undefeated Tri-River Conference representative, as possible contenders for the state crown.

"When it comes to the state, anything can happen," Jones added.

Robichaud claimed its third regional track title in 10 years by piling up 95 points, leaving its closest rival, Linden, behind by 27 points. Linden was runner-up with 68, followed by Algo-nac (57), Cherry Hill (55), Fenton (39) and Inkster (34).

Robichaud's Dennis McIntosh earned a gold medal in the long jump as the 16-year-old junior soared 21 feet, 3/4 inches to outdistance all other competitors. Teammate Lewis Jones picked up the gold in the 1,600 meters as he covered the distance in a 4:29.5.

The Bulldogs' 3,200 relay, 800-meter relay and the 1600-meter teams all emerged with gold medals.

In the 3,200 Coach Flounory put together the foursome of Clarence Williams, David Hayes, James Weathers and Jones who responded in 8:01.29 for their first place. In the 800-meters, Maurice Smith, Patrick Earby, Jerome Haney and Nathan Scott turned in an enviable 1:31.8 to win it, while David Hayes, Lewis Jones, Adrien Thomas and Scott were Robichaud's winning combination for the 1,600 meters. The regional champs were clocked in 3:26.8.

Robichaud also qualified for the state, (you had to place third or better at the regionals): Jerome Haney, in the 200-meter dash. Haney finished in third (23.0); Nathan Scott, a runner-up in the 400-meter dash; Jones, in the 800-meter was second (2:00.5) and teammate David Hayes, was third (2:00.8).

Although they failed to make the cut, Clarence Williams earned a fifth place medal for his 2:01.1 effort in the 800-meter, while Earby also was awarded a sixth place medal for his 11.3 performance in the 100-meter dash.

Robichaud's LaBoya Bolling also qualified for the state when she won the 200-meter dash and finished second in the 100-meter event.

Cherry Hill Coach Dick Gordon also was pleased with his team's over-all performance at the regionals.

"Considering only five members of this year's team had ever run in a regional," said Gordon, "I feel this team did a fantastic job. We will return six of these athletes next year and both the 800 and 400 meter relays will remain intact."

The Spartans' 3,200 meter relay team of Ed Mulrooney, Quinn Lawrence, Richard Smith and Larry Dixon had the third best regional time (8:07.8) and finished behind Robichaud and Cranbrook to qualify for state.

Cherry Hill also qualified Mike Brown, who was second in the 100-meters in 11.3. Teammate Ernie Johnson placed third in the event with an identical time. The Spartans' 800-relay team, made up of Richard Smith, Zarick Duran, Mike Brown and Ernie Johnson, also will travel to Caro thanks to a 1:32.3 third place effort.

Dixon finished second to Robichaud's Jones in the 1,600 meters, so he'll have another shot at his rival from across Michigan Avenue. The Spartans also will send their 400-meter team to Caro after Donnie Watson, Zarick Duran, Mike Brown and Johnson came up with the second best time (44.7) at the regional. Linden won the event with a 44.5.

Richard Smith, Eric Truss, Ed Mulrooney and Larry Dixon combined for a 3:27.8 to give Cherry Hill a third place in the 1,600 meter, lifting them into the state finals.

The Spartans also had medalists Mulrooney, who was fifth in the 400-meters; Dixon, who placed sixth in the 800-meters; Richard Smith, who was fifth in the 200-meters and Frycalski

Romulus reigns as league champions

Rocky Patterson's three-hitter lifted Romulus to a 7-0 victory over Taylor Truman and to the inaugural Metro-West Conference softball championship.

Patterson, who has amassed an enviable 18-3 over-all pitching record, struck out nine and walked four in the title-clinching game.

"I'm really proud of this team," said Romulus coach Fred Coleman. "They've worked hard and deserve the championship."

Although Truman rallied for seven runs in the last inning to win the nightcap 10-6, the fatal damage had been inflicted. Romulus piled up a 10-2 won-lost record to Truman's 8-4.

"By winning the championship, I believe, this also gave our school the conference's All-Sports Trophy," Coleman noted. "Although the final tabulation isn't in, I believe our teams have more over-all points than the other schools."

In that title-deciding contest, Tracy DiBenedetto came through with a pair of runs batted in while Kim Doss, Kris Bair and Deanne Pochmara each contributed two hits.

Pitcher Lori King was the victim in the nightcap as Truman, whose loss in the opener left them out of the title contention, Truman erupted for seven runs in the seventh to win the finale.

Earlier in the week the Eagles swept a pair of league games from Oak Park, claiming the opener 13-0 as Patterson chalked up a no-hitter, struck out three and walked none. In the second game, King humbled the Parkers 14-0 as she turned in a one-hitter. Blair and Pochmara each had two hits and three RBIs.

In the first game Kim Doss laced three hits and two RBIs and Pochmara turned in with two singles and three runs batted in.

Behind Patterson's six-hit pitching, the Romulus' varsity baseball club had a lot to smile about last week as Coach Dennis Stoh's Eagles captured the second annual Belleville Little Caesar's Invitational Baseball Championship by beating host, Belleville. Team members gather with the championship trophy presented to the Eagles by Jim Fielder, owner-proprietor of the Belleville Little Caesar's. Jim is the brother of Belleville High baseball coach Tom Fielder. "Someday, soon, I hope I'd like to present the trophy to my brother," quipped the sponsor.

Farmer's 2-hitter puts Spartans into pre-district playoff

Cherry Hill supported pitcher Ken Farmer's two-hitter with its "finest over-all team performance of the season" as the Spartans qualified for the Class B pre-district tournament by shutting out Dearborn St. Alphonsus, 6-0, last week.

The victory places Coach Ken Mientkiewicz's ball club into the pre-district where the Spartans will meet Benedictine at 4 p.m. Friday for the right to compete in the semi-final round of the district at Oak Park.

District competition is scheduled for June 2 at Oak Park. The host must get by Dearborn Divine Child in order to qualify for the semis.

"We played our best game of the 1984 season against St. Al's," Coach Mientkiewicz said. "We had the hitting, the pitching and perfect defense."

Farmer struck out 10 batters and walked eight.

The Spartans gave him two runs to protect in the second inning as Dan Sanchez led off with a double, moved to third when Mike Merriman's grounder was booted. With one-away Tom Storti singled in the first run and Mike Sasseen's sacrifice fly drove in the second.

In the third inning, the Spartans got an insurance run when Paul Oster doubled to begin the inning. Oster was singled home by Steve Rodomski. Three runs in the fourth iced the victory and the Spartans got those with two away. Mark Bayliss blasted a solo homer, then Oster was hit by a wild pitch. He stole second and raced home on Rodomski's two-bagger. Sanchez' single accounted for the final run.

The Spartans also edged Dearborn Heights Annapolis 11-10 and routed Crestwood 12-7 while dropping a 7-3 decision to Southgate last week. The loss to Southgate forces the Spartans in a "must win" situation or they drop down to third in the final Tri-River Conference standings. Undefeated Melvindale has sewed up the championship).

Cherry Hill and Allen Park presently share the runner-up berth and the two rivals were scheduled to meet on Monday, weather permitting.

Farmer faced only one Annapolis batter to chalk up the victory. He stepped in after starter, Bayliss, who had worked 6½ innings, got in trouble and allowed the Cougars to tie the score at 10-all. Farmer got the last putout.

Then, in the bottom of the seven, Bayliss led off with a single, moved to second when Oster walked. Rodomski drilled the game-winning single.

Cherry Hill's Bill Ratliff found himself in trouble in the first inning when he gave up six runs in the Crestwood Charger, so Mientkiewicz put in reliever Merriman who went on to scatter five hits and earn the victory. Farmer contributed two hits as did Rodomski, Rod Bryer, Storti and Oster while Mike Sasseen was a perfect three for three.

The Spartans managed to pull out the victory with nine runs in the sixth, their best single inning output for the season.

Seven costly errors cost Bayliss and Cherry Hill a 7-3 decision to Southgate.

Pre-district test

Romulus vs. Northville

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus High and Coach Dennis Stoh's hopes and dreams for a Class A District Baseball Championship will ride on the outcome of the Eagles' contest

Friday with Northville.

"We don't know much about them," said Stoh whose Eagles will host the 2 p.m. pre-district showdown, "however, if we want to reach the district playoffs we'll have to beat them."

"And our kids must buckle down and play defense the way I know we can," Stoh warned.

The winner of the Romulus-Northville game will advance to the district playoffs scheduled for Sat., June 2 at Plymouth Salem High School.

In the meantime the Eagles' over-all record dripped to 18-13 and their league mark stands at 3-9 after splitting with Taylor Truman and Oak park last week.

In the opener against Truman, sophomore Tony Yandura twirled a one-hit pitching gem as I had the manager of the Oakland A's Steve Boros, on my television show the other day and it brought back some fond memories.

In 1961, the Tigers had one of their best seasons in their history, winning 101 games.

Yet, they finished in second place in the A.L., eight games behind the Yankees who had a great team. One of the reasons the Tigers did so well was the play of a rookie-third baseman, who was considered one of the finest young players in baseball. His name? Steve Boros.

Off to a great start that season, Boros got beamed in July, I believe, by Eli Orba. Boros never really recovered from that and left Detroit after the '62 season, bouncing around for a few years before retiring. He then managed in the Minor Leagues for a bit before returning to the big leagues as a coach. After several seasons in that capacity, he was named manager of Oakland last year. Boros took over a team that had problems mainly because of outgoing manager Billy Martin. Only a year before (1981), the A's won the A.L. West and had some of the finest young starting pitchers in baseball in Steve McCatty, Rick Langford, Matt Keough, Mike Norris and Brian Kingman, and they could all throw hard. However, Martin mishandled them and, in my opinion, burned them out, pitching them too many innings. They all had sore arms and at this time the only one still pitching is

Dialogue with Oakland A's Steve Boros

McCatty and he has to change his style, becoming a finesse pitcher. In '82 the A's fell apart finishing in last place. Exit Martin. Enter Boros. Despite all the problems, Oakland finished fourth last season and this year should contend for the West Division title. They made some good off season moves, coming up with Bill Caudill, Bruce Bochte, Joe Morgan and even problem child Dave Kingman, who nobody wanted. Kingman is off to a great start and has led the A.L. in home runs most of this young season. Caudill is one of the best relief pitchers in baseball. Bochte is a good hitter, who had left baseball for a year because he didn't like the greedy players and owners and Morgan, despite being 40-years-old, is a leader and still has some baseball left in him.

I asked Boros if he thinks his team can win the division, which is not that strong.

BOROS — We should contend. We have eleven new players playing key positions. Caudill helps our bullpen a lot. Sixteen times last year we had a lead in the late innings and we lost it. That shouldn't happen this year. If we stay healthy we should contend.

ME — Joe Morgan has been a winner wherever he's been. And I think he can still play. What's he mean to the other players on the team?

BOROS — He's been amazing. He's like having another coach. He talks to the players, helping them positioning themselves. He's helped Dwayne Murphy with his hitting, Ricky Henderson with his base running, and he can still play. He's been a real help.

ME — What about the problem child, Dave Kingman?

BOROS — The designated hitter rule has helped him. He wasn't comfortable playing in the field. He likes to D.H. and his attitude has been good.

ME — Did you always want to manage at the Major League level?

BOROS — Not at all. I enjoy managing but I didn't seek this job. My long range plans do not include managing in the big leagues. I do enjoy working with kids. I'm not certain what I want to do in the distant future.

Romulus vs. Northville

Eagles shut out the Cougars 10-0. Yandura's bid for a no-hitter was spoiled by Sean Uzarwinski who singled in the fifth. The Romulus hurler fanned seven and walked none.

Dave Blevins led the assault against Truman pitchers as he latched on to four hits and four RBIs, including a solo homer in the fifth. That was Blevins's fourth homer of the campaign. He also doubled, driving in Rex Boatright and Rich Dybicki in the sixth.

Boatright chipped in with three hits, all singles, while Dave Bergman singled and doubled for the winners.

Gary Tackett silenced Romulus' bats in the second game of the twin bill as he fired a four-hitter to subdue the Eagles 3-1. Jeff Barks, who tossed a seven-hitter, was the victim. His mates didn't help out in this one as they committed three costly errors.

Truman put two runs on the scoreboard in the fifth and came up with an insurance run in the sixth while the Eagles averted the shutout in the third inning when Tom Noeyack singled, advanced on a passed ball and scored the go-ahead run on Sloan's base hit.

Romulus committed four errors as Oak Park handed the Eagles and pitcher Dave Blevins a 7-1 ets at $3 each.

Jake's books a winner

Babe Ruth clouts a mighty blast and Rick Leach scampers around left end. Wilt Chamberlain swats away a shot and Anthony Carter races to yet another touch down.

The superstars perform their feats on picturesque murals that are a trademark at Jake's, that easily identifiable sports bar located at 3519 S. Wayne Road near Michigan Avenue in downtown Wayne. This is maize and blue country, complete with awnings shaped in the form of University of Michigan football helmets.

Inside, the walls are covered with photos of personalities, such as Joe Theismann and Eric Hipple, and frequent patrons. For many, Jake's remains the "in" watering hole in the area.

Daily lunch specials, priced in the 75 cents to $1.50 range, include kielbasa and sauerkraut, tacos, hot dogs and sloppy joes. An all-you-can-eat fish fry is featured from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. every Friday and a salad bar is offered weekdays for $1.99.

Other menu selections include a pound ground round ($1.70), steak sandwich and fries ($4.25), breaded veal cut-let ($1.50), shrimp dinner ($4), chicken dinner ($3.50), deep fried clams ($1.35), breaded mushrooms or zucchini ($1.25) and chili ($1.25). Happy Hour runs from 3 to 6 p.m. daily.

As for the entertainment, several television screens provide (you guessed it) sporting events every night. Basketball and hockey playoffs... and of course, those amazing Tigers. Free popcorn is available.

However, the first love at Jake's remains the Wolverines. Although he attended Eastern Michigan University, Jake Davidson, son of owners Harry and Jinny Davidson, has been converted into a U-M fanatic.

So much so that the Davidsons invested some $5,000 to give the establishment a maize and blue motif.

"We book a winner," Jake explains.

Applefest celebrates fifth year

The Huron Applefest is five years old, and this year's is promising to be bigger and better than ever, according to Candi Youtsey, promotion manager.

That's why she's reminding Western Wayne County residents now to circle Oct. 5-7 on their calendar.

The Applefest will be held in downtown New Boston. With its local apple growers, continuous family entertainment, and huge street fair, it will be an event the family won't want to miss.

The Huron Applefest drew approximately 100,000 people in 1983. So you see, it might be a small community south of Detroit Metro Airport, but it's united.

If you have any questions call Youtsey at 654-6020 or 753-3100, or write Box 28, New Boston 48164.

Magic of Ming offered

The magic of Ming the Magnificent and Barbara will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Northville Community Center, 303 W. Main St., downtown Northville. Admission at the door is $2 for adults, $1 for children under 12.

Ming the Magnificent and Company will feature such illusions as the Doll House Illusion, Levitation of a Woman, and others, combined with the magic of dance.

Ming and Barbara Louie, who currently live in Northville, have been performing magic together across the country for several years, from the Hawaiian Islands to New England. They have been seen throughout the Detroit area, as well as on local television, including an appearance on Channel 7's "Kelly and Company."

Appearing with Ming the Magnificent and Company will be dancer Michelle Esper. Michelle, 16, has been a professional dancer most of her life, and performs frequently with Ming's troupe.

For further information about Ming the Magnificent and Company, call the Northville Community Recreation Center at 349-0203.

'Indiana Jones' Sequel 'doomed' to success

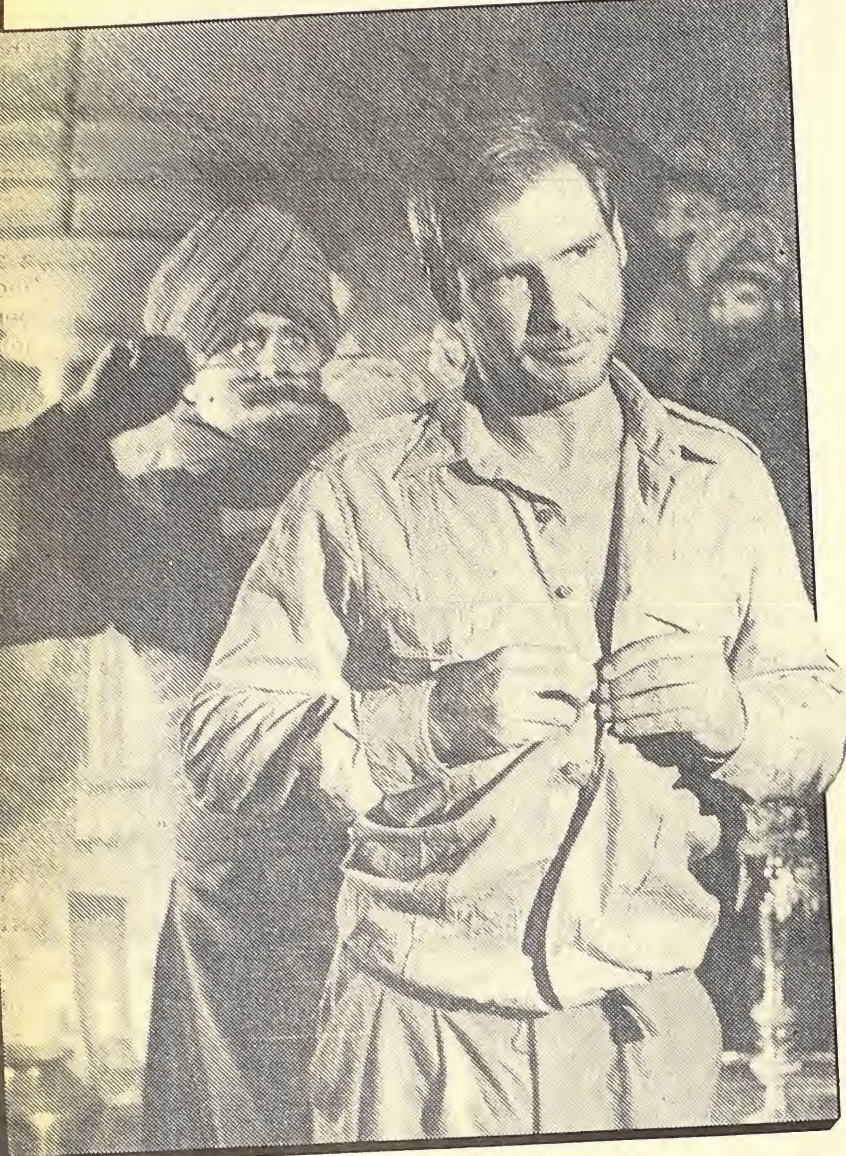

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

INDIANA JONES AND THE TEMPLE OF DOOM

Starring Harrison Ford, Kate Capshaw, Ke Huy Quan. Directed by Steven Spielberg from a story by George Lucas. A Paramount Film. Rated PG. Opens today at local theatres and drive-ins.

simply because of Harrison Ford's star appeal (the guy's in four of the six highest grossing films of all time).

And no ordinary sequel this; it's not a rehash nor even a continuation, but an advancement. Harrison Ford's acting ability has never shone better, and he adds to Jones' already intriguing character in leaps and bounds. And the storyline, which has less to do with the success of most movies of this trademark whip, Willie snaps "What are you, a lion tamer or somethin'?"

When at the Temple, the group are served a dinner consisting of live snakes and beetles, Willie turns a little green around the gills and says "no thanks ... I had bugs for lunch," as Short Round's jaw falls open, dropping his gum. I won't tell you what happens when desert is served — chilled cup 'o' monkey brains.

Harrison Ford has gone on record as saying that the character of Indiana Jones is part George "Star Wars" Lucas, part Steven "E.T." Spielberg and part himself. Whatever, he's one of the great heroes of the screen, combining vulnerability, wits, and the ability to do the right thing even when he's trying to do something else.

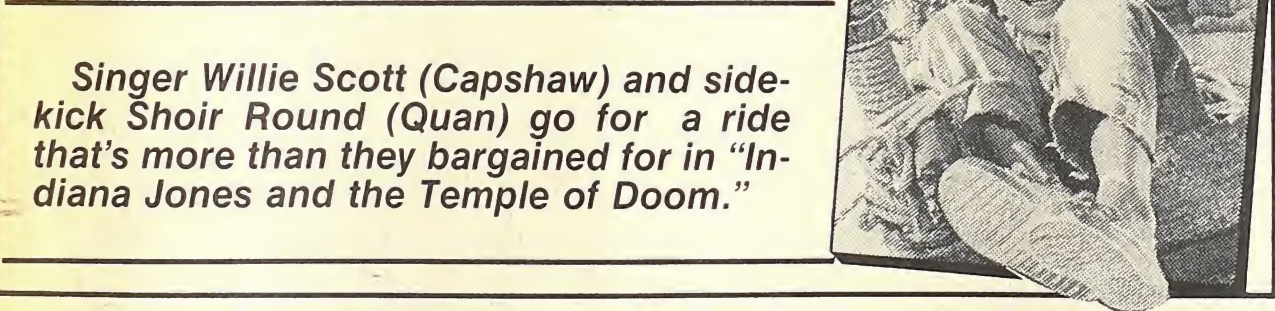

Much credit for the success of IJATTOD must go to Director Spielberg. His effective use of camera angles and extraordinary sense of lighting add immeasurably to the film. Not to mention a few surprises waiting guaranteed to have you jumping out of your seat.

One word of warning though. While this latest Indiana Jones excursion is fun for all ages, there are more chills and a little gore this time out. Parents of young children may want to screen the movie first. It's not as bad as most prime time television shows as far as violence goes, however.

So, thrill once again to the exploits of the world's most exciting archeologist in two non-stop hours of edge-of-your-seat action. Laugh as captivating Kate Capshaw clowns. Scream when ... well, you'll have to see it yourself to find out.

Also, I'd advise seeing the film at one of the theatres featuring the film in 70 mm. and dolby sound, such as the Quo Vadis, as opposed to a drive-in. At least the first time.

It's a kid's movie for adults. Or an adult film for kids. But it's a winner either way you call it.

type than the action, is much more intricate this time around, with subplots abounding.

The biggest and best surprises onscreen are the performances of Kate Capshaw as nightclub singer at the Club Obi Wan (Yuk yuk), Willie Scott, and the debut of 12-year-old Ke Huy Quan as Indy's young sidekick Short Round.

Capshaw, who proves herself a gifted comedienne, provides pure comic delight with the young Chinese boy (wearing a New York Yankees baseball cap) often acting as the foil. For example, when she first sees Indy with his
